INTRODUCTION

Writing a dissertation or thesis is a time-consuming but supremely rewarding experience. To guide you through manuscript preparation and to help you create a uniform and visually clear document, the Graduate School has developed the Dissertation and Thesis Handbook. It is a guide to Temple University's specific style requirements, which must be followed to receive approval from the Graduate School.

Temple University requires that your research be made accessible to the academic community at large. This is effected by publishing your dissertation/thesis through ProQuest and making it available through both ProQuest and Charles Library. Further, your dissertation/thesis may be accessed via various internet search engines, such as Google.

Making your research accessible to the worldwide academic community is a condition of Temple University's awarding research doctorates and master's degrees to those completing a degree that requires a dissertation or thesis as a culminating experience. Upon request, your dissertation can be embargoed for a period of six months, one year or two years. An embargo is typically granted to:

- Delay disclosure of potentially patentable discoveries and/or products with potential commercialization.
- Permit technology transfer to occur.
- Allow time for an article to be accepted for publication and/or a book contract to be executed.

Style Manual

An essential reference tool when writing a dissertation or thesis is a department-approved professional style manual. You must consult a style manual recognized by a professional society in your field.

To determine which professional style manual is appropriate for your discipline, consult with your advisor. Common manuals include those published by the American Psychological Association \(APA\), the Modern Language Association \(MLA\), and the University of Chicago Press. These and other approved style manuals are listed in APPENDIX A of the Dissertation and Thesis Handbook.

Note that the Dissertation and Thesis Handbook is NOT itself a professional style manual. Rather, it is a guide outlining where your dissertation/thesis might diverge from a discipline's specifications. If a discrepancy between the instructions in a style manual and those in the Dissertation and Thesis Handbook exists, the Dissertation and Thesis Handbook takes precedence.

Other Sources of Assistance

The Temple University Information Technology Services Department offers training seminars throughout the year in using word processing and statistical tools for your dissertation or thesis. These seminars provide the building blocks for crafting your manuscript.

Technical "How do I?" questions should be addressed to the Computer Services Help Desk at 215-204-8000 or help@temple.edu. Another useful resource is LinkedIn Learning, which offers word processing tutorials.

In addition, the Student Success Center offers writing retreats that are designed to help graduate students with their writing projects, including dissertations, proposals and articles for publication. These writing retreats offer intensive and focused writing time, one-on-one mentoring, goal-setting support, fellowship and motivation. A nominal fee is charged for each retreat to cover program costs.

Finally, the Temple University Libraries offer workshops on publishing and copyrighting specifically for graduate students who are working on their dissertation or thesis. Librarians are also available for one-on-one consultations.

If questions arise while working on your dissertation or thesis that are not answered in the Dissertation and Thesis Handbook, contact Domonique McClendon, Coordinator of Graduate Student Services, in the Graduate School at 215-204-7584 or domonique.mcclendon@temple.edu.

GENERAL OVERVIEW

Visit the Dissertation and Thesis Handbook early and often during the writing process. Do not wait to review the Dissertation and Thesis Handbook until the term you anticipate graduating or when you have already scheduled a defense date.

You are welcome to print a copy of the Dissertation and Thesis Handbook. Note, however, that the information contained herein is subject to change without notice. Periodically checking the Graduate School website will ensure you have the latest version. You can find the latest publication date on the Dissertation and Thesis Handbook's front cover at bottom left.

This manual lays out Temple University's requirements for acceptable dissertations and theses. Individual departments or their schools/colleges may have additional requirements. It is your responsibility to learn of such special requirements and to prepare your manuscript in accordance with them, as well as with the instructions in this manual. Dissertations and theses not meeting the specifications of the Graduate School will not be accepted.

Mechanics

- The scholarly research you have performed and report on in your final manuscript is outside the scope of the Dissertation and Thesis Handbook. The Graduate School expects that your research has been reviewed and approved by your advisor and committee before allowing you to defend your dissertation/thesis or upload a final document.
- Your dissertation/thesis must be legible, and all tables, figures and illustrations must be of high quality.
- Your manuscript must be:
 - written in clear, grammatically correct language;
 - free of all spelling and typographical errors; and
 - punctuated in a standard and appropriate manner.
- It is best to NOT reference and model your manuscript after completed dissertations/theses on file in your department or Charles Library, no matter how recent. Current standards and requirements are subject to change without notice.

E-DISSERTATION INITIATIVE

Doctoral dissertation submissions evolved from paper to electronic submission of a PDF with the August 2008 graduation cycle. Submissions of master's theses followed suit with the May 2010 graduation cycle. Thus, submission of all dissertations and theses is mandatory through Temple University's ETD Administrator site.

Beginning with the January 2012 graduation cycle, the diploma and publishing fees were eliminated.

Account Access

- Visit Temple University's ETD Administrator site at <https://www.etdadmin.com/temple> and bookmark for ease of repeated access.
- Create an account and familiarize yourself with the resources available on the site.

Reminders

- The processing fee for doctoral dissertations and master's theses is currently $50 and must be paid to the Bursar for posting to FOAPAL 100000 24800 4981 04. It is recommended that doctoral and master's students take the "Dissertation/Thesis Processing Fee" form, found under Student Tools on TUportal within "University Forms" at bottom center, to the Bursar's Office when paying the fee. Note that this fee cannot be paid online and must be paid either in cash or by check. Be sure to retain a scanned copy of the Bursar processing fee receipt as you will need to upload it later on the ETD site.
- If you choose to file for copyright through ProQuest, the fee is currently $75, whether doctoral or master's. It is payable online through the ETD system. Note, however, that it is not necessary to choose this option because you already own the copyright to your work. ProQuest charges separate fees for students interested in copyrighting and/or open access to their manuscripts. The Graduate School advises against selecting and paying for those options.

Important Note

Once the Graduate School has approved a dissertation or thesis submitted through the ETD system, REVISIONS of any kind are NOT PERMITTED.

- Retain a copy of the final version of your dissertation/thesis, including signature page and permissions. ProQuest checks every page and frequently finds some pages missing or areas of potential copyright infringement.

PROCEDURES

Apply for Graduation

- Access Self-Service Banner through TUportal.
- Also visit EdPortal if you are a student in the College of Education and Human Development.
- See the University's Academic Calendar or the Graduate School calendar.

Announce Dissertation Defense

How?

- Distribute an executed “Announcement of Dissertation Defense” form, found under Student Tools on TUportal within “University Forms” at bottom center, to the Graduate School in 501 Carnell Hall and the dean's office of your school/college.
- Provide all graduate faculty in your program with a flyer.
- Post a flyer on public bulletin boards in and near your department.
- Note that the Graduate School also announces the defense on its Graduate Calendar webpage.

When?

- No later than 10 calendar days prior to the scheduled defense.
- No later than 10 calendar days if an external examiner's curriculum vitae (CV) – accompanied by an executed “Nomination for Service on Doctoral Committee” form – must be reviewed by the Graduate School.

Submit PDF of Approved Final Version of Dissertation/Thesis

Important Note

No dissertation or thesis may be uploaded to the ETD system until the oral defense has been passed AND all committee-required revisions have been satisfactorily completed.

Where?

- Upload to Temple University's ETD Administrator site at <https://www.etsadmin.com/temple>.

Anything else?

- Email a completed digital copy of the final signature page of the dissertation/thesis to Domonique McClendon, Coordinator of Graduate Student Services, at domonique.mcclendon@temple.edu.

- Access, sign and submit the “Permission to Reproduce Dissertation or Thesis” form, found under Student Tools on TUportal within “University Forms” at bottom center. This form is required of all doctoral and master's students who must produce a dissertation or thesis as a culminating experience to grant Temple University license to reproduce the dissertation/thesis.
- For doctoral students only, submit your CV/résumé at <https://www.etsadmin.com/temple>.
- Complete the Survey of Earned Doctorates online, as delineated in APPENDIX B, if earning a research doctoral degree.

When?

- Within 30 days post-defense OR by the due date specified below – whichever comes FIRST:

GRADUATION CYCLE	DIPLOMA DATE	DISSERTATION/THESIS DUE DATE*
December 2022	December 15	November 28, 2022 by 5:00 pm
May 2023	May 11	April 24, 2023 by 5:00 pm
August 2023	August 9	July 24, 2023 by 5:00 pm

- * Deadlines are firm. If you cannot meet the deadline for a particular graduation cycle, contact your school/college about applying for the following cycle. Note that graduating is not automatic: you must apply. It is the same with deferring graduation: you must notify your school/college and comply with its procedures.

BASIC MANUSCRIPT PREPARATION

Margins

- Margins are consistently set at 1.5" at LEFT and 1" at RIGHT, TOP and BOTTOM.
- Margin requirements are the same for the entire manuscript, including front matter, body, notes, sources and back matter.
- Page numbers should NOT be set in the margin.

Page Numbering

- Every page of the manuscript is counted, BUT not all pages are numbered (e.g., the Title Page is page i, but does not show a page number).
- Two page-numbering systems are used, including:
 - consecutive lower-case Roman numerals (e.g., ii, iii, iv, v) for the front matter beginning with i; and
 - consecutive Arabic numbers (e.g., 2, 3, 4, 5) for the text and all pages thereafter, beginning with 1 for the first page of Chapter 1.
- Pages numbered 1a, 1b and the like are NOT acceptable.
- Page numbers may not be closer than 1" to the edge of any page.

Headings

- Headings differ in appearance based on level of importance, but all headings of the same level must look the same. See the sample Table of Contents in APPENDIX C.
- Two formats for headings are accepted by the Graduate School:
 - The first is based on APA guidelines, as shown in APPENDIX D1. This style of heading can be used regardless of your discipline or style guide.
 - The second consists of designating subheadings with numerical prefixes that reflect the chapter and level of the subheading. This system may be used only by those in the "hard sciences," such as Engineering and Statistics, as shown in APPENDIX D2.
- Only major division headings (i.e., Level 1), such as section and chapter titles, are fully capitalized.
- The sections of the front matter, each chapter, and the sources section are all major divisions and begin on a new page. End the previous page with a page break to create a new page for the next major division.

- Formatting of headings must be consistently correct throughout the entire work, not just in one chapter. This includes but is not limited to:
 - spacing between headings and text;
 - spacing between text and headings;
 - placement of same level headings (e.g., centered or flush left); and
 - appearance of same level headings (e.g., capitalization, italics).

Line Spacing

- Double spacing is used for the:
 - Abstract
 - Dedication
 - Acknowledgments
 - Preface
 - Body of the manuscript
- Single spacing is used for block quotations, which are indented 1/2" from both the left and right margins.
- A combination of single and double spacing is used for:
 - Table of Contents and Lists of Tables/Figures/Illustrations: Single-space within subheadings and titles of two or more lines; double-space between individual subheadings and titles. Align multiple-line subheadings and titles under the first word of the first line.
 - Notes: For numbered entries (as opposed to parenthetical entries in APA style), single-space within entries, and double-space between entries. Each first line must be indented 1/2". If an entry must split across pages, ensure a minimum of two lines of the entry appears on both pages.
 - Bibliography/References Cited: Single-space within entries and double-space between entries — or double-space within and between entries. The first line begins at the left margin, and all subsequent turnover lines indent 1/2" — or the first line is indented 1/2", and all subsequent turnover lines align at the left margin. If an entry must split across pages, ensure a minimum of two lines of the entry appears on both pages.
- Space between headings and text, text and block quotations, block quotations and text, etc. must be consistent throughout the manuscript.
- No careless spacing or centered text should be utilized.

Widows and Orphans

- Widows and orphans, which are single lines of text at the top or bottom of a page, are to be avoided.
 - A "widow" is the last line of a paragraph that is carried over to the top of the following page away from the rest of the paragraph.
 - An "orphan" is the first line of a paragraph that appears alone at the bottom of a page.
- Starting a page with the last line of a list is also a widow and must be avoided.
- Ending a page with a subheading is another type of orphan and must be avoided.

Quoted Material

- Long quotations (i.e., quoted material consisting of 40 or more words) are formatted as a free-standing block of type and must:
 - be single-spaced,
 - be indented 1/2" from the left and right margins,
 - have NO surrounding quotation marks, and
 - have the source citation after the ending punctuation of the quoted material.
- Short quotations (i.e., quoted material with fewer than 40 words) are integrated into the text and distinguished by surrounding the quote in quotation marks. The source citation is placed after the ending quotation mark, but before the ending punctuation of the sentence.

PDF Preparation

File Format	Adobe PDF required. NO compression; NO password protection; NO digital signature. You are responsible for the appearance of your manuscript in PDF. It will appear and be downloaded exactly as you submit it.
Print Quality	Only black ink is acceptable – and the work must NOT contain touching or discontinuous characters.
Fonts	Embedded Post Script Type 1 fonts REQUIRED. Any legible font except script, italic or ornamental fonts equivalent in scale to 10-point Arial or 12-point Times New Roman accepted. Italicized font may be used for non-English words and quotations. Applies to all text, including captions, footnotes/endnotes, citations, etc.
Color	PDF and print reproductions include all color material in color.
Multimedia Files	For digital preservation, upload multimedia content as supplemental files; do not embed multimedia in a PDF. Upload supplementary files during online submission – and provide a description of each file in the Abstract of your manuscript. ProQuest accepts multimedia content in the file types listed below and cannot guarantee that other file types will be migrated: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Audio: AIF (.aif); CD-DA; CD-ROM/XA; MIDI (.midi); MPEG-2; SND (.snd); WAV (.wav)• Images: GIF (.gif); JPEG (.jpeg); TIFF (.tif)• Video: Apple Quick Time (.mov); Microsoft Audio Video Interleaved (.avi); MPEG (.mpeg)

ARRANGEMENT OF CONTENTS

Every dissertation and thesis has three main parts: front matter, body and back matter. Each of the three chief parts, in turn, consists of multiple sections.

Front Matter

Official Signature Page

Dissertations. The Graduate School requires submission of one Signature Page with signatures and authorized signatures of all committee members. When your defense announcement is received and approved, the Graduate School will create the Signature Page and deliver it to the Chair of your Doctoral Advisory Committee. Note that your name must appear on your dissertation and all other documents as it appears on your Temple University transcript. If a name revision is required, make the change in Self-Service Banner or contact the Office of the University Registrar.

No changes may be made to the Signature Page created by the Graduate School. Use of Wite-Out®, cross-outs, tape or the like to make revisions to the page render the Signature Page null and void.

Following your defense, a digital copy must be submitted to Domonique McClendon, Coordinator of Graduate Student Services, in the Graduate School, 501 Carnell Hall. The Signature Page will NOT be included as part of the dissertation's PDF.

- You generate the E-Title Page.
- Typed names replace signatures of the committee members.
- The E-Title Page is uploaded as part of your PDF.

Theses. The E-Title Page is similar to the official Signature Page except:

- It bears no signature, only typed names with titles and affiliations.
- It is uploaded as part of your PDF.

Design Instructions. Access and fill in the Dissertation or Thesis E-Title Page, as relevant.

- Follow the script version in APPENDIX F for dissertations or APPENDIX E for theses to ensure proper formatting and styling, such as bold and caps, on the writable versions of the title pages found under Student Tools on TUportal within “University Forms” at bottom center.
- Use word substitutes for formulae, symbols, superscripts, Greek letters, etc. in the title. While these are acceptable within the text of your manuscript, they may not appear in the title because they cannot be used in computerized keyword searches.
- Indicate the month and year of the official University diploma date — not of your defense and not of your school/college ceremony. The ONLY options are December, May or August.

Copyright Page

- The Copyright Page is optional.
- When included, the Copyright Page is the first page on which a page number actually appears. It is numbered with a small Roman numeral two (ii).
- If included, the notification on the page is centered top to bottom and left to right and should read:

Copyright
Year of Graduation (e.g., 2022)

by

Author's Legal Name
All Rights Reserved

- A template for the Copyright Page is included in APPENDIX G1.

Abstract

- The Abstract, which has no set word limit but is an "abstract," should briefly:
 - state the problem discussed in the manuscript,
 - describe the research procedures or methodology, and
 - summarize major findings and conclusions.
- The Abstract is text only and may NOT contain any other element, such as tables, graphs, charts, illustrations, subheadings or reference notes.
- The Abstract is double-spaced.

- Page numbers continue Roman numeral pagination of the front matter.
- A template for the Abstract is included in APPENDIX G1.

Dedication and/or Acknowledgments

- The Dedication and Acknowledgments pages are both optional.
- If one or both pages is included, double spacing is used.
- Page numbers continue Roman numeral pagination of the front matter.
- Templates for the Dedication and Acknowledgments pages are included in APPENDIX G1.

- "Table of Contents" is a major heading and should be set in that format. Below that, at the right margin, is the column label "Page." Next, at the left margin, the sections in the manuscript are listed. Leader dots follow, with respective page numbers listed under the "Page" column header. A template for the Table of Contents is included in APPENDIX G1.
- Front matter headings, including ABSTRACT, DEDICATION, ACKNOWLEDGMENTS, LIST OF TABLES, LIST OF FIGURES and/or LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS, are listed in the Table of Contents in all capital letters, at the left margin, if these sections exist in your manuscript. In the Table of Contents, do NOT include a line entry for the Copyright Page or Table of Contents itself.
- Below the front matter entries, still at far left, is the column label "CHAPTER." Under that, Arabic chapter numbers and chapter titles in all capital letters are listed. It is not required that subheadings be listed in the Table of Contents, but if they are, each level of subheading is indented 1/2" from the chapter title or subheading above. Do not list more than three levels of subheading on the Table of Contents — and if you list a level of heading for one chapter, list that level for every chapter in which it exists. Remember, this applies to the Table of Contents, not the text.
- Chapter numbers (e.g., 1, 2, 3) should be uniformly spaced from chapter titles. Chapter titles and subheadings should be uniformly separated from page numbers. Thus, if a title comes within 1/2" of its page number, break it into two or more single-spaced lines, aligning turnover lines with the first word of the title/subheading.
- Back matter headings, including BIBLIOGRAPHY/REFERENCES CITED and APPENDICES, are listed in the Table of Contents in all capital letters and at the left margin. If there is more than one appendix, each is identified by a capital letter (e.g., A, B, C) assigned according to the order of mention in the text and aligned at the left margin.
- Do not repeat the column labels of "Page" and/or "CHAPTER" on subsequent pages of the Table of Contents.
- Page numbers for the Table of Contents continue Roman numeral pagination of the front matter.

List of Tables/Figures/Illustrations

- Separate lists are necessary if there are tables, figures and/or illustrations in your manuscript. Depending on the items in your manuscript, you may have a List of Tables, a List of Figures and a List of Illustrations — or you may have just one or two. Identify the materials in your dissertation/thesis and sort them into the appropriate list.
- The titles/captions listed in each list must match exactly the titles/captions in the manuscript. This includes wording, capitalization, abbreviations, punctuation and the like. However, do not copy underlining (except in the case of statistical abbreviations) or bold to a list. The purpose of these lists is to allow the reader to locate easily the embedded table, figure or illustration rather than have to page through the entire document.
- "Table," "Figure" or "Illustration" must appear as the left column label in its respective list. At right is the column label "Page." Below, the number and its corresponding title or caption appears. Each entry's corresponding page number aligns at right, with leader dots separating title/caption from page number. If the list breaks onto multiple pages, do not repeat the column labels.
- If a title/caption comes within 1/2" of its page number, break it into two or more single-spaced lines that align under the first word of the title/caption.
- Each title/caption is double-spaced, except when single spacing is used for turnover lines of long titles/captions.
- Page numbers for Lists continue Roman numeral pagination of the front matter.
- Templates for the Lists are included in APPENDIX G1.

Body

Chapter Numbers and Titles

- "CHAPTER #" and "CHAPTER TITLE" are normally all caps and centered at the top of a new page. Arabic numbers – not words, not Roman numerals – designate chapter numbers. Line spacing should be consistent spacing, whether single or double.
- Other placements and capitalization schemes may be accepted. The key is to be consistent on all headings with the same level of importance.

Text

- This is the substance of the dissertation/thesis. It includes all chapters and their sections and subsections, with a corresponding page number in the Table of Contents.
- Page numbers begin with an Arabic number 1 for the first page of Chapter 1 and continue consecutively.

Notes

- Notes may be substantive or explanatory. Notes may identify sources or indicate keys to reading a table. Depending on your style manual and the purpose of the notes, they may be called footnotes, endnotes, notes, general notes, probability notes, etc.
- Regardless of what your notes are called, each entry must have the same format:
 - single- or double-spaced within notes;
 - double spacing between notes;
 - same font as the rest of the text;
 - ideally, same point size as the rest of the text; and
 - under no circumstances, smaller than 10 point.

Back Matter

Bibliography/References Cited

- A comprehensive list of sources must be titled either "Bibliography" or "References Cited." A template for the source list is included in APPENDIX G3.
- All books, articles or other sources used in the manuscript, either in direct quotation or by reference, must be listed.
 - Citations in the text must correspond to those listed in the comprehensive source list.
 - Authors' names must be spelled correctly and, hence, consistently.
 - Dates that appear in the text should be the same as those listed in the comprehensive source list.
- In-text citations, source citations, references and notes may be ONE of the following:
 - Parenthetical author-date, as in the example in the table at the top of the next page.
 - Superscripted or bracketed numbers.
 - Classic footnotes at the bottom of the page.
 - Endnotes at the end of each chapter.
 - Endnotes at the end of the entire work.

EXAMPLE OF PARENTHETICAL AUTHOR-DATE APA CITATION

In text	As noted in the research (Huggard, 1998), the goal was...
In Bibliography/Reference Cited	Huggard, C. (1998). Clinical efficacy of dexamethasone iontophoresis in the treatment of patellar tendonitis in collegiate athletics: A double-blind study . Unpublished master's thesis, Temple University. Philadelphia, PA.

- Ordering within the list of sources varies by discipline:
 - Works in education, the humanities and the social sciences are alphabetically ordered by author's family name, which begins each entry.
 - Works in the hard sciences are usually ordered numerically.
- Two spacing options exist:
 - Single-space within individual entries and double-space between.
 - Double-space within and between entries.
- Two indentation options exist:
 - With hanging indentation, the first line of every entry is on the left margin and every turnover line is indented 1/2".
 - With paragraph indentation, the first line is indented 1/2" from the left margin and the turnover lines are at the left margin.
- Page numbers continue consecutive Arabic pagination of the text.

Appendices

- Appendices contain supplementary material or explanatory data too lengthy to be included in the text or not immediately essential to the reader's understanding of the text. To determine whether to include material as an appendix, consider:
 - Does the material truly need to be included? That is, does it add to the understanding of your research?
 - Is the author's written permission needed to include it? That is, is it copyrighted?
 - Does it fit Temple University's margin, clarity and type requirements — or do you have to retype it? For example, letterhead cannot be included without adjustment.
 - Have you made reference to the material in the text? No material can be included as an appendix if it is not referred to in the text.
- Appendices are designated by capital letters (e.g., A, B, C); are lettered in the order in which they are mentioned in the text; and are listed in the Table of Contents as Level 1 headings, fully CAPITALIZED with their appendix letter on the left margin directly under the "A" in "appendix." See the sample Table of Contents in APPENDIX C.

- Each appendix is titled with a centered Level 1 heading "APPENDIX ____" followed on the next line by its title in ALL CAPITAL letters. These are positioned at the top of the first page of each new appendix like a chapter title.
- Original material in an appendix must be double-spaced and typed the same as all other text. Copies of correspondence, forms, computer programs, printed questionnaires, surveys, testing instruments, etc. may be included in their original format ONLY if they adhere to the established margins (i.e., 1.5" on the left side and 1" on all other sides), print size and quality specifications. It is not important that the "original" document be included, but it is important that included documents be readable. Material that will not fit or is difficult to read must be reduced, recopied, retyped or removed. Letterhead must be either cut-and-pasted or retyped.
- Appendices follow the Bibliography/References Cited section.
- Page numbers continue consecutive Arabic pagination of the text. This applies to both new and previously paginated materials that you include.
- A template for Appendices is included in APPENDIX G4.

PREPARATION OF LIST MATERIALS

Graphic elements that can be utilized in dissertations and theses include:

- Tables, which organize information into discrete rows and columns.
- Figures, which are other illustrative material, including charts, graphs, diagrams, schematic illustrations and the like. Drawings and photographs can be included, if desired.
- Illustrations, which are typically drawings and photographs.

General Style of List Materials

- Font and font size should be consistent between tables/figures/illustrations and the text unless there is a compelling reason to do otherwise.
- Every table, figure and illustration must be unique and have its own unique title. That is, each item may appear only once in your manuscript.
- Tables, figures and illustrations are integrated into the text:
 - An element that is larger than half a page should be placed on a page by itself centered within the margins on the first page following its first mention in the text.
 - An element that is half a page or smaller should be merged onto a page with text and set off from the text by a double or triple space above and below.
 - Each element must appear in its entirety on one page, if it will fit. If it will not, it should begin at the top of a page and continue on succeeding pages as necessary.
- Do not leave substantial blank space on a page because a graphic element has been mentioned and will be placed on the following page. Continue the text to the bottom of the page, and then insert the table/figure/illustration at the top of the next page, resuming the text on that page after the graphic element.
- Number tables/figures/illustrations sequentially with Arabic numbers (i.e., 1, 2, 3) throughout the manuscript according to the order in which they appear in your text.
 - Begin numbering each different type of graphic element at 1. Thus, you could have a Table 1, Figure 1, and Illustration 1 in your manuscript.
 - The only acceptable alternate numbering system is to use both the chapter number and the number of the graphic element together (e.g., "Table 3-6" [or 3.6] for the sixth table in the third chapter, "Figure 5-2" [or 5.2] for the second figure in Chapter 5).
 - Whichever numbering system you choose for the text must be reflected in the respective list in the front matter. That is, if you choose to include the chapter number in your numbering system, the "chapter number-graphic element number" must appear in the list.

- Graphic elements may NOT be numbered according to section.
- Graphic elements may not be differentiated with letter suffixes (e.g., Table 6A, Table 6B, etc.) to indicate a relation between two or more graphics. If the tables/figures/illustrations are related, then they can be combined into one.
- Any graphic element set up in landscape orientation should be on a page by itself.
 - Landscaped materials must be placed reading outward (i.e., with the top of the graphic at the binding or left side of the page).
 - The page number on the landscaped page must, however, have portrait orientation like all other page numbers.
- Consistency in style, placement, numbering, spacing and punctuation used for the graphic elements in your manuscript is key.

Tables

- Data that would require only two or fewer columns and rows in tabular form should be presented in the text because tables are reserved for more complex data. To present quantitative data clearly and efficiently, it must be arranged logically:
 - Data to be compared must be presented next to one another.
 - Statistical information (means, standard deviations, N values) must be presented in separate parts of the table.
 - If possible, canonical forms (ANOVA, regression, correlation) should be used.
- The "Table" feature in your software should be utilized to create tables. If you choose to not use the "Table" feature, columns should be aligned using tabs, not the space bar and your eye.
- Initial caps, italics and single spacing are used for the table title. Align the second line of the title directly under the first word of the title.
- Column headings within the table should be clear and concise. They should not be much wider than the widest entry in the column.
- All columns must have a heading, even the "stub" column, which customarily lists the major independent variables in the left-hand column.
- Numerical data should be expressed in a consistent number of decimal places, as determined by the precision of measurement, within a column. Do not vary the unit of measurement or the number of decimal places in the same column.

- If a table splits across pages, on the continuation page(s):
 - Duplicate the table number, but use "(continued)" to replace the title.
 - Repeat the column headers.
- Consistent spacing should be maintained between the text and the table title and between the end of the table and the text. Two line spaces above and below are recommended.
- An older style table is acceptable for some disciplines at Temple University, as shown in the example below. It utilizes:
 - Spanner lines, which include a solid horizontal line at the top of the table (a single space below the title); a solid horizontal line below the column headings; and a solid horizontal line at the end of the table (a single space above any notes or a triple space above text). If the table continues to another page, no spanner line appears at the bottom of the continuing page(s).
 - A period, which follows the table number. The table title is set on the same line as the table number and has no punctuation after it.

Table 1. Data for Unskilled Men

Subject	Jump Height (cm)	Reach Height (cm)
Data in this table fill one page. . .
11	46.23	48.10
12	38.62	49.30
13	48.21	61.20
14	38.21	50.50
-----(. . . which forces a page break here)-----
Subject	Jump Height (cm)	Reach Height (cm)
15	36.23	48.10
16	48.62	49.30
17	38.21	41.20
18	58.21	60.50

- A corresponding LIST OF TABLES must appear in the front matter, showing the table number, its title exactly as it is typed on the table itself, leader dots, and the number of the page on which the table appears in your manuscript.
- Tables that appear in an appendix must be formatted exactly like those in the text – and must be listed in the LIST OF TABLES in the front matter. Tables in the appendix should be numbered in the same style used in the text (i.e., either sequential or with both the appendix letter-table number).

Figures

- A "caption" is a descriptive title or brief explanation of a figure. It is mandatory and appears BELOW the figure. The caption is duplicated in the LIST OF FIGURES in the front matter.
- A "legend" is any additional commentary or a more detailed explanation of the figure. It is optional, follows the caption, and is NOT incorporated into the LIST OF FIGURES.
- Example of a figure:

Graduate School
TEMPLE UNIVERSITY

- Do NOT add alpha extensions to a figure's Arabic number to indicate related figures, even if your discipline's style manual calls for such.
- Consistency in capitalization in captions and legends is key.
- With today's computer technology, hand-drawn figures should be the exception, not the rule. If you are drawing a figure by hand, straight lines must be typed or drawn in black ink with a ruler; words included in the figure should be typed. Computer-generated figures are acceptable if the print is of letter quality and large enough to be readable (at least 10-point type).
- A corresponding LIST OF FIGURES must appear in the front matter, showing the figure number, its caption exactly as it is typed below the figure itself, leader dots, and the number of the page on which the figure appears in your manuscript.

Illustrations

- Drawings and photographs can be listed in a LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS; included in the LIST OF FIGURES; or identified in a LIST OF PLATES or, if relevant, a LIST OF PHOTOGRAPHS.
- Like tables and other figures, identification in a LIST includes the illustration number, its caption exactly as it is typed below the illustration itself, leader dots, and the number of the page on which the illustration appears in your manuscript.
- Consistency in capitalization is key.

PUBLISHING AND COPYRIGHTING

Publishing Your Dissertation/Thesis Through ProQuest

"Publishing" is the goal of the online e-dissertation submission process:

- You upload your dissertation/thesis at <https://www.etsdadmin.com/temple>, Temple University's ETD Administrator site.
- The Graduate School approves and releases the uploaded PDF to ProQuest, contingent upon receipt of an executed "Permission to Reproduce Dissertation or Thesis" form, which is found under Student Tools on TUportal within "University Forms" at bottom center.
- The PDF of your dissertation/thesis is simultaneously delivered to Charles Library.

Again . . .

Temple University requires that your research be made accessible to the academic community at large. This is effected by publishing your dissertation/thesis through ProQuest and making it available through both ProQuest and Charles Library. Further, your dissertation/thesis may be accessed via various internet search engines, such as Google.

Making your research accessible to the academic community at large is a condition of Temple University's awarding research doctorates and master's degrees to those completing a degree that requires a dissertation or thesis as a culminating experience. You may, however, choose to embargo your dissertation/thesis for a period of six months, one year or two years when uploading your dissertation/thesis to ProQuest. To do so, click on "Publishing Options" under "Submission Steps." The maximum time allowable for an embargo is two years. Because publishing your work is required as part of the degree-granting process at Temple University, a permanent embargo is not permissible.

Including Copyrighted Material in Your Dissertation/Thesis

If you include copyrighted material of any sort in your dissertation/thesis, you MUST obtain the copyright owner's written permission for its inclusion and subsequent distribution by ProQuest as part of your dissertation/thesis. A sample copyright permission letter is presented in APPENDIX I1. If and when permission is received from the copyright owner, you must include the permission-granting letter in an appendix to your dissertation/thesis.

If the copyright owner denies permission, the material may NOT be included in your dissertation/thesis. APPENDIX I2 demonstrates the language you should use in your appendix in lieu of including the copyrighted material.

Purchasing the right to use an instrument does NOT give you permission to include it in your dissertation/thesis. In order to include it, you must have written permission expressly stating that the instrument may be reproduced and distributed by ProQuest as part of your dissertation/thesis. ProQuest will not publish your work without a permission-granting letter for use of the instrument included in an appendix. Reminder: Your work must be published as a condition of your degree being awarded.

You are solely responsible if you violate copyright law; Temple University and ProQuest will not be held liable. For information on reproducing copyrighted material, please refer to Copyright and Your Dissertation or Thesis: Ownership, Fair Use, and Your Rights and Responsibilities by Kenneth D. Crews.

SUMMARY CONSIDERATIONS

Dissertation/Thesis Preparation

- Was the style manual for your discipline your constant companion during the writing process? Whether APA, Chicago, MLA or some other style, the manual should have been used to format your in-text references and entries for the sources section. Note, however, that spacing and subheading conventions as outlined in the Dissertation and Thesis Handbook take precedence over those of any style guide.
- Throughout the entire manuscript and in all sections, the MARGINS must be 1.5" on the LEFT and 1" on the top, bottom and right. Everything, including page numbers, must be within these margins.
- The TABLE OF CONTENTS must accurately reflect heading levels and their exact wording and capitalization from the text.
- The TABLE OF CONTENTS and any LISTS must have leader dots with the section's page number set at the right-hand end of the dots. The page numbers will readily align if a right tab is set at 6".
- FRONT MATTER must be in this order, when included: Copyright, Abstract, Dedication, Acknowledgments, Preface, Table of Contents, Lists. All of these pages are listed on the Table of Contents along with their page number, except the Copyright Page and Table of Contents.
- Running heads (i.e., headers repeated on consecutive pages) are NOT permitted.
- CHAPTERS are necessary, and each chapter begins a new page. Chapter 1 always begins on page 1.
- A COMPREHENSIVE LIST OF SOURCES, such as "Bibliography" or "References Cited," must be included after the last chapter. Its format will vary by discipline.
- All CITATIONS mentioned in the text must have a full bibliographic entry in the comprehensive list of sources. Irretrievable data, such as an oral interview, are excluded.
- If you are ready to submit your manuscript, have you reviewed it as a whole? No discernible difference should exist between the part that constituted your proposal a few years ago and the conclusion you tweaked this morning. Your dissertation or thesis is a single work that is broken into chapters that should cohesively contribute to the premise of your document.

Academics

- Doctoral students must complete a minimum of 6 culminating credits of 9994, 9998 and 9999 — with a minimum of 2 credits of 9999 — AFTER achieving candidacy and BEFORE graduation.
- Registration is required in the academic term of defense/submission, whether Fall, Spring or Summer, for both doctoral and master's students.

Graduation

- When the end is in sight, ensure that you have applied for graduation. The deadlines for applying for graduation for the 2022-2023 academic year are as follows:
 - Fall 2022/December 2022 graduation: October 1, 2022
 - Spring 2023/May 2023 graduation: February 1, 2023
 - Summer 2023/August 2023 graduation: June 1, 2023
- To access the application, go to TUportal and select Self-Service Banner (SSB). When in SSB, select Student » Student Records » Apply to Graduate. Upon accessing the graduation application, verify that the correct degree and program are indicated. If the wrong degree or program is listed, STOP. This will be required if you are applying for a diploma for a degree to which you were not officially admitted (e.g., admitted to the PhD but picking up an MA along the way). Contact your advisor to submit a Graduate Change of Program Work Flow. When the Registrar confirms via email that the Change of Program has been completed, return to the SSB graduation application and submit.
- Note that individual schools and colleges may have additional filing requirements. Check with your dean's office to ensure that all graduation requirements have been satisfied and to learn about graduation procedures, such as fees, regalia, invitations and "walking."
- Remember that the dissertation/thesis processing fee is required. This $50 fee must be paid through the Bursar and applied to FOAPAL 100000 24800 4981 04. The fee cannot be paid online and must be paid either in cash or by check. A receipt must then be uploaded to the ProQuest site with a copy of the processing fee form as proof of payment of the dissertation/thesis processing fee. To expedite this process, a check and supporting documentation may be mailed to the Temple University Graduate School, Attn. Domonique McClendon, 501 Carnell Hall, 1803 N. Broad Street, Philadelphia, PA 19122-6104.

GRADUATE SCHOOL DRAFT REVIEW

Reviews of drafts and final copies are limited to oversight of formatting to ensure that all dissertations and theses meet standards generally expected in an academic manuscript of such magnitude. An appointment can be scheduled with Domonique McClendon, Coordinator of Graduate Student Services, at 215-204-7584 or domonique.mcclendon@temple.edu.

Manuscript review by the Graduate School focuses on the items identified below. While meeting these criteria cannot guarantee approval, disregarding them strongly predicts that revision will be required.

1. Margins are 1.5" at left and 1" at right, top and bottom.
2. Page numbers are:
 - no closer than 1" to any edge of page,
 - small Roman numeral page numbers on all front matter, and
 - Arabic numbers beginning with page 1 for Chapter 1.
3. Text is double-spaced overall, except where single spacing is more appropriate (e.g., block quotes).
4. On the E-Title Page:
 - Diploma date is month and year: month can be only December, May or August.
 - At bottom left, major advisor and then committee members, all with their affiliations, are listed.
5. Order of sections is as follows:
 - E-Title Page bearing names and affiliations of examining committee members
 - Copyright
 - Abstract
 - Dedication
 - Acknowledgments
 - Preface
 - Table of Contents
 - Lists of Tables, Figures and/or Illustrations: separate, in that order, and with a column of page numbers on the right-hand side indicating where each item appears in the manuscript
 - Chapters
 - Notes
 - Bibliography/References Cited
 - Appendices

6. Minimal front matter components are Abstract and Table of Contents.
7. Tables, figures, illustrations and chapters are uniquely numbered and identified in the front matter and in text.
8. Each new chapter starts on a new page.
 - Subsections within a chapter are merged in a consistent fashion.
 - Subsections can have a different pattern from sub-subsections but not from each other.
9. Comprehensive list of sources must be titled either:
 - Bibliography
 - References Cited
10. In-text citations, source citations, references and notes may consistently be ONE of the following:
 - Parenthetical author-date
 - Superscripted or bracketed numbers
 - Classic footnotes at the bottom of the page
 - Endnotes at the end of each chapter
 - Endnotes at the end of the entire work
11. Ordering within the list of sources varies by discipline:
 - Works in education, the humanities and the social sciences are alphabetically ordered by author's family name, which begins each entry.
 - Works in the hard sciences are usually ordered numerically.

FINAL CHECKLIST

To complete the degree process, review below the materials required for your level of study. Then download the appropriate Final Checklist in APPENDIX J1 (doctoral) or APPENDIX J2 (master's), recording the date of submission for each item. Retain a copy for your records, if desired.

APPENDIX B1
Survey of Earned Doctorates
WEB REGISTRATION INSTRUCTIONS

SURVEY OF EARNED DOCTORATES (SED)
WEB REGISTRATION

Congratulations on completing your doctorate!

The Survey of Earned Doctorates is the definitive source of information on the nation's new research doctorates. Sponsored by the National Science Foundation and five other Federal agencies, the SED is critical to understanding in what specialty areas doctorates are produced and their post-graduation employment plans. Results are used by government and academic institutions to make decisions about graduate education funding, developing new programs, and supporting existing ones.

The ability of the survey to accurately describe doctorate earners depends on obtaining responses from all doctoral degree recipients. Your response affects decisions made for future generations of doctorate recipients.

The SED online registration process allows students to go directly to the SED survey without having to retrieve a PIN/Password from their email. The result is expediency in completing the survey. A PIN/Password and URL to the survey are provided only when the student has had to exit the survey before its completion. To begin the survey, doctorate earners should visit the following registration URL:

<https://sed-ncses.org/>

Please note that Temple University requires verification of completion of the survey. Recent updates to the SED system provide that email notification is automatically generated for the Graduate School when a survey is completed by a new recipient of a Temple doctorate.

Again, congratulations on completing your doctorate!

APPENDIX B2

Survey of Earned Doctorates

PURPOSE, USE AND CONFIDENTIALITY

Purpose

Assessing the availability of highly educated personnel is important in evaluating the nation's work force. For this purpose, the Survey of Earned Doctorates is conducted annually.

The survey gathers data from all research doctorate graduates each year on their educational history, sources of support, and post-graduation plans. The responses become part of the Doctorate Records File (DRF), a data bank on doctorate recipients from 1920 to the present and the major source of doctoral data at the national level.

Use

Data from the survey are available through NSF's website at <https://www.nsf.gov/statistics/doctorates/> and in printed reports. Survey data are also used:

- By universities and federal and state governments to make policy decisions that affect graduate education throughout the United States.
- In the evaluation of graduate education programs, strategic planning at the state level, labor force projections, and equal opportunity employment plans at all levels.
- By federal agencies to inform Congress and to make decisions about financial commitments that affect graduate education throughout the United States.
- In a variety of publications ranging from full-length books to articles in newspapers and magazines.

Confidentiality

Information provided by research doctorate graduates is kept strictly confidential. The information relayed on the Survey of Earned Doctorates (SED) questionnaire is safeguarded in accordance with the Privacy Act of 1974 and the NSF Act of 1950, as amended. The survey data are reported only in aggregate form or in a manner that does not identify information about an individual.

The survey's sponsors and data collection contractor take the strongest measures to safeguard respondent confidentiality. All staff members sign binding confidentiality pledges. All processing facilities and computer systems are carefully designed and continuously tested to safeguard the information provided by institutions and respondents.

Only two groups can receive individual-identifiable data from the SED project:

- The SED Federal Sponsors (for program evaluation)
- Graduate School Deans (for their own graduates only)

Confidentiality safeguards prohibit the use of data for commercial purposes or for investigating an individual respondent or institution. Any independent researcher or contractor for the federal agencies that performs analyses of the data must sign legally binding organizational and individual Data Use Agreements certifying that the institution will only use the data for statistical purposes and that the security of the data will be protected. Similarly, Graduate School Deans must sign an agreement that they will only use the data for statistical purposes and will safeguard the confidentiality of the responses.

EXPLANATION: Of utmost importance is the Chapter title with number, the Level 1 heading, e.g., 1. EARTH SPECIES. The Level 2 subheading, e.g., Wild Animals, has secondary importance. The Level 3 subheading, e.g., Humans, has normal importance. The Level 4 subheading, e.g., Doberman, has minor importance. Of minimal importance is the Level 5 subheading, which is NOT listed in the Table of Contents.

In the Table of Contents, the headings have a pattern of progressive indentation. In the body of the dissertation/thesis, the headings do NOT have this progressive indentation. Within the manuscript, "2. NON-EARTH SPECIES" would be formatted the same as "1. EARTH SPECIES" (centered, not italicized, all caps); "Tame Animals" would be formatted like "Wild Animals" (centered, not italicized, initial caps); "Dogs" would be formatted like "Humans" (centered, italicized, initial caps); and "Poodle" would be formatted like "Doberman" (at left margin, italicized, initial caps).

APPENDIX D1 HEADING LEVELS FOR ALL DISCIPLINES

Formatting in APA 6th-edition style will be accepted through Summer II 2023. As of Fall 2023, students must use APA 7th-edition style.

APPENDIX G TEMPLATES

Sample templates are accessible under Student Tools on TUportal within “University Forms” at bottom center for:

- G1 – Front Matter
- G2 – Chapter
- G3 – Comprehensive List of Sources
- G4 – Appendices

Utilizing the templates preserves the custom margins and pagination style:

- Roman for the front matter and
- Arabic for the chapters, comprehensive list of sources, and appendices.

APPENDIX H SAMPLE FIRST PAGE OF A CHAPTER

Please note the following on this sample first page of text, which is not to scale:

- Margins
- Placement of Level 1 heading
- Spacing within Level 1 heading and between Level 1 and Level 2 subheading
- Presence and choice of location of page number
- Citation style (APA)

The diagram illustrates the formatting of a sample first page of a chapter. It shows a page with a 1½-inch left margin, a 1-inch right margin, and a 1-inch top and bottom margin. The page number '1' is placed in the top right corner. The text is centered and includes a chapter heading, an introduction, and two paragraphs of text. Red arrows point to the page number placement and the margins. Three callout boxes provide additional instructions: 'Place page number here', 'or here, at least 1" from edge(s)', and 'or here'.

INTRODUCTION

The Problem

Many sports involve strenuous running and jumping movement, which expose the athlete to potential injury to the bones, joints, ligaments, and muscles of the lower extremities. Injuries to the ankle continue to be one of the most common and frequent of all sports injuries. The sports of volleyball and basketball are reported to have the highest incidence of ankle injuries (Bassett, Crowder, & Malone, 1988; Garrick & Requa, 1988; Schafle, Requa, Patton, & Garrick, 1990). As a result, athletic trainers, physicians, coaches, and athletes continue to search for an appropriate means of external support for the ankle in order to prevent injury as well as minimize the degree of severity of those ankle injuries that do occur (Augustine, 1986; Bassett et al., 1988; Schafle et al., 1990).
